[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO OCT 7

Paris Still Fortifying

TOURS Oct 6—In view of the Prussian approach upon Paris many precautions are being taken The surrounding heights are fortified and occupied by regular troops

The Government is taking measures to ensure Normandy against devastation by sending there a line of the Mobile Garde

The "Reds" Organizing

TOURS Oct 6—At Lyons the Reds have come to the determination to organize a movement They had a meeting at Grenable, numbering over 2 000 persons It is expected that the Government will take measures to put a stop to these manifestations

Dispatches from London

LONDON Oct 6—Gen Bressoon commands the Prussian army destined for service in South France

Five hundred houses were destroyed in Strasbourg by the bombardment, and the number of persons rendered homeless is 10,000 Subscriptions for their relief are circulated generally throughout Germany

King William reviewed the 6th Prussian army corps at Versailles on Wednesday His headquarters were subsequently established at that place

Military Movements

CHARTRES, Oct 5—VIA TOURS, Oct 6—Canonading commenced this morning near Maintenon

ST QUENTIN Oct 5—VIA TOURS, Oct 6 There was a combat yesterday near Soissons Prisoners say that the 2d regiment of the army of the Duke Mecklenburg Schwerin were defeated by the garrison

A report from Gen Rigaut forwarded from Tours shows a decided success achieved yesterday by the French troops under his command

TOURS Oct 6—Gen Rigaut reports from Chevilley Wednesday, that he had reconnoitered toward Tourney with three brigades of cavalry and infantry and a few guns He reached Chevilley and there surrounded the village took five hundred (?) Bavarian prisoners and some guns Ressayres brigade turned the villages on the right and the enemy's cavalry, 3,000 strong supported by 2 000 infantry were obliged to retreat precipitately towards Paris The French harassed them for three hours' march beyond Tourney

LONDON Oct 6—The Temps of Paris 3d states the loss on Friday at about five hundred wounded and four hundred killed The object of the sortie was to blow up the bridge over the Seine and rouse the courage of partisans by obtaining a success where the Prussians were not supposed to be in force Nothing and having been attained, consequently the besieged are greatly depressed Two hundred and fifty American remain in Paris forty being women

LONDON Oct 6—The Pall Mall Gazette has a balloon dispatch dated at Paris Monday which says the demagogues have been defeated in an attempt to disturb the Provisional Government that the mobiles behave well in front of the enemy and that meat is scarce

A Battle Impending.

LONDON, Oct 6—It is evident that between Rouen and Clermont, within a day or two hence the most serious engagement which has yet taken place between the mobiles and German troops, will come off. The former are throwing up masses of troops from the outside to occupy north of Picardy and east of Normandy, the orders from Paris and Tours being to prevent the formation of a second cordon at any cost, and the hope of a successful defence of any town in the north west of France seems utterly hopeless in the present condition of scattered forces.

Atlantic Cable Injured.

LONDON Oct 6—One of the Anglo cables is again injured near Newfoundland. As the company has a repair steamer on the American coast it is hoped the cable will be in good working order in a few days

Miscellaneous Dispatches

TOURS Oct 6—The French are taking advantage of the delay in attacking Paris by drilling and arming the mobiles

Letters by balloon from Paris say they have plenty of provisions there.

The news of the fall of Strasbourg was not known in Paris till October 5th. Many people refused to believe it

The reported departure of Garibaldi from Caprera needs confirmation

LONDON Oct 6—A Herald special says the guard mobile has no artillery and are discouraged and that the next engagement will be near Rouen and Clermont

A small engagement took place near Soissons The Prussians were defeated and pursued three hours

WAR MISCELLANY

By Telegraph.

According to a statement in the Figaro Marshal Lebeouf sought death in the battles around Metz and displayed the most reckless valor He admits that France was unprepared for war, and confesses he did not dare tell the Emperor before the war commenced what the state of the army was

A special cable dispatch to the New York Times says that there is great dread of a reactionary tendency in Prussia among German Liberals They say that should King William proclaim himself Emperor of Germany there will be a Republic in Fatherland before three years This is the universal topic of conversation throughout Germany

A dispatch from Berlin says that Bazaine is reported to have in Metz thirty three cavalry regiments and sixty two field batteries in all 30,000 horses The voluntary surrender of the Marshal is considered here unlikely from his known gallantry and ambitious character It is most probable he will endeavor to obtain prominence in the future Government by holding out

A great number of private documents belonging to the Emperor which were recently seized at the Tuileries by the officers of the new Government have just been made public here in the columns of the official journals Many noted persons under the old regime are implicated in the scandals The Provisional Government at Paris has already dismissed Desfonne he having been shown to have been mixed up in the scandalous transaction between the ex Emperor and Marguerite Bellenger The Secret correspondence in relation to Mexico has been unearthed implicating the Duc de Morny and others high in the Emperor's confidence There were found letters from Persigny to Napoleon proving the existence of a black tribunal, and another from the Queen of Holland written directly after the battle of Sadowa warning the Emperor of the very events now occurring Altogether, the disclosures thus far made in regard to the private life of the Emperor have substantiated all the charges that the Opposition ever made and it is thought that the next list soon to be published, will be more scandalous

A dispatch from Strasburg, Sept 2 says On Tuesday afternoon the joyful sight of the white flag was beheld flying from the cathedral This was followed by the same welcome of surrender from the citadel During the entire investment a universal cheer arose from the portion of the besieging lines which was soon caught up and echoed throughout the army The scene which followed was indescribable excited officers embraced each other and escaped hands the men following their example and some actually cried with joy The commandants of the forces generals Werder and Ulrich met for the first time yesterday After the terms of capitulation had been arranged the meeting took place just outside a gate in the east side Gen Uhrich advanced to Gen Werder and with a voice much agitated said I have yielded to an irresistible force when further resistance was only reckless sacrifice of the lives of brave men I have the consolation of knowing I have yielded to an honorable enemy Gen Werder was much affected, and placed both hands on Uhrich's shoulder and said You fought bravely you will have as much honor from the enemy as you can have from your own countrymen

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

Gen Brauchitsch is appointed military Governor of Versailles

Epernon has been completely evacuated by the Prussians There are still about 2 000 at Rambouillette

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM, Thursday, Oct 6, 1870

HOW INVESTIGATIONS ARE MADE

Everybody remembers what a farce the Democracy made two years ago of their attempt to investigate the affairs of the State Treasurer They raised a committee for that purpose, but when the committee met not more than one or two of them had the least idea of what they should do or how to do it The Republican members of the committee feeling that they had no particular responsibility in the matter, being in the minority, declined to take the lead in the investigation and so the Democracy went back to the two Houses for authority to employ an accountant They wanted somebody to tell them what to do Well they got their accountant who went on and worked out the puzzle, the result showing that the Democracy had taken nothing at all by their motion The shortage which they had expected to discover was not found The joke of the whole matter lay in the fact that there was not an individual Democrat on the joint committee who had the most remote idea of the correctness or falsity of the report—written by the accountant—which they signed and submitted to Legislature Similar farces are being enacted this session A committee has been raised to investigate the books and papers of the Penitentiary but as yet the committee has done nothing except to go out yesterday to look at the buildings and grounds and greet some of their old friends the inmates Another committee was appointed to inquire into the affairs of the Adjutant General's office I have already mentioned the report of this committee in respect to the job it gave the State Printer It makes a point that the arms on hand are in bad condition owing to the fact that the legislative act of two years placed it out of the power of the Adjutant to do more than store them Another point is made that there are no tents to be found and we have been unable to ascertain what has become of them The attempt here made is to create the impression that the Adjutant has made a job of the tents The committee did not think it worth while to investigate further than to ascertain and note the fact that there were no tents in the armory They were unable to ascertain what has become of them When that report was made, the report of the Adjutant General was upon the desks of members showing that eighty five tents are in possession of various militia companies and eighty officers that of the twenty on hand at last report, fifteen had been sold for $10 each and the other two condemned by the Military Board of Auditors All the arms, equipments, camp and garrison equipage were accounted for in the same or other schedules And yet the committee reports that they were unable to ascertain etc This is but a fair specimen of the manner in which investigations are made by the Democracy Legislature No State officer need look for a fair report upon his affairs unless expert accountants be employed to make the investigation

THE PORTLAND CUSTOM HOUSE

There are several Portland Democrats here urging upon the legislature the passage of Stout's bill to amend the Portland charter as a Democratic measure The public pretense however is that the police force of the city is inefficient and that the city cannot get in any other way If it can pass it will be for the reason alone that it will give the city administration practically into the hands of the Democracy My impression is that the bill will not pass The anti Grover Democrats do not care to enlarge the Governor's patronage one or two of them in the Senate are sagacious enough to see that the measure would be an unfortunate one for the party, and politic enough to oppose it

THE YAMHILL CONTEST NEWBY ELECTED.

The Democratic Senate held an election this afternoon for Yamhill Newby was acceptinacious, that the Senators got weary of the clamor and concluded to elect him so this afternoon, Mr Mr Holcelaw presented a report from the Committee on elections signed by himself and Mr Hendershott, declaring that they had counted out enough votes cast for Mr Watts at the June election to bring his total down from 616 to 583, making Mr Newby's majority, seven The manner in which this figuring was done was very much like the figuring in the Benton county case Mr Cornelius, in his minority report states that, judging of all the votes challenged by both parties by the rules adopted by the committee Watts' real majority was seventeen instead of ten as by the official count last June He charges, by implication at least that after agreeing to certain principles to test the questioned votes, the committee disregarded such rules and counted out of Watts' vote votes that should have been allowed him, and gave Newby votes which should not have been counted It does seem that the principal object of the committee was not to find votes which were legally or illegally cast, but to make such a count as would let Watts out and Newby in

The investigation and the form of trial were the merest farces imaginable and might have been omitted with as much decency as now attaches to the proceedings There is no pretense that anybody outside of the committee knew anything of the evidence or the equities of the case. Not over half a dozen Democratic Senators remained in the Chamber to hear the reports and the arguments Their minds had been made up in advance perhaps by caucus, and sitting to listen to the law and the evidence would have been an observance of decent appearances quite unnecessary When the contestants got through talking to the President pro tem and the lobby there was a call of the Senate, the election was held and the returns showed Newby to have received 15 votes while Watts only got 6 Newby was therefore declared elected Counting out the two "imports"—Brown from Douglas, and Strahan from Benton—Newby had a clear majority of just the number reported by the committee A rush was made for the Secretary, to have Newby sworn in at once but as upon a former occasion, that officer had gone home, and so Newby is as yet only a Senator in prospect This is probably the last election to be held in the Senate There are no more Democratic candidates that I know of If there were, I should not dare say there would be no more elections I am prepared now to believe that if the late Democratic candidate for State Senator in Multnomah were to come here and ask for Mr Powell's seat, he would get it

THE FUNERAL OF MR PERSHBAKER.

Both Houses of the Legislature met at ten this morning and adjourned to attend the funeral of the late Senator Pershbaker The members and officers very generally joined in the procession from the State House to the residence of Mr Strong, where the body lay thence to the Congregational Church and thence to the cemetery Mr O Regan of the House, and Mr Mosher of the Senate acted as Marshals The brass band headed the procession At the church, Rev P S Knight delivered a short, impressive sermon, his general subject being the immortality of the soul When the procession left the church, the hearse was followed in the following order the officers and members of the House, the officers and members of the Senate, Governor Grover and Col. Kelly members of the Supreme Court and the State officers Three members of the Senate and three of the House, elected as pall-bearers.

INSANE ASYLUM MATTERS.

The joint committee to whom was referred matters concerning the Insane Asylum, held a meeting to night and I understand that a report will be made to-morrow Of the character of the report, I am not informed There are prospects for the care and treatment of the insane, submitted by Dr Hawthorne, Dr McCurdy of Salem and Messrs Knott Ladd and Kinney There is no movement in favor of building an asylum, and it may be anticipated that the proposition of one or the other of the parties above mentioned, will be awarded a contract for the next two years

A NEW AND FAT OFFICE

The bill to create the office of Assistant State Treasurer passed the Senate to-day by a strict party vote—all Democratic Senators voting for it and all Republicans against The pay provided is one half of one per cent. on all moneys received and one per cent on disbursements This, as compensation, is a little the fattest thing in the State The report of the late Treasurer, shows that the receipts of 1868-9 were over $400,000 or over $200 000 per annum. For taking in and disbursing this amount, the Treasurer would get by this law over $4 000 in addition to his present salary The bill makes the per centum payable to the Treasurer, leaving him to make such compensation to his assistant as may be agreed upon It is simply an "artful dodge" to increase the salary of the Treasurer above the amount provided by the Constitution.

SATURDAY MORNING OCTOBER 8 1870

Salaries of State Officers

We observe that the Legislature is considering and will probably pass bills to increase the pay of the Private Secretary of the Governor and to provide for and pay an Assistant Treasurer a per centum on the funds received and paid out The operation of this new officer, under this arrangement will be about $2 000 per annum As the Treasurer only gets $800 we suppose that in the appointment of his assistant he will see to it that the difference between these salaries shall be equitably adjusted

Now it is manifest to any one that all these acts which provide for Secretaries and Assistants to the Governor Secretary of State and State Treasurer are in effect giving so much additional compensation to these officers, and in plain violation of Article VIII of the Constitution, which prescribes the Salaries of the State officers The Constitution defines the duties and the salaries of these officers, and there is no more reason or authority for the Legislature providing and paying Assistants to attend to these duties than there is for a direct increase of the salaries

But the truth is the compensation of these officers is so miserably low, and there is such an absolute necessity for an assistant in each of them particularly in the Governor and Secretary s office that the thing has been practiced and acquiesced in by all parties from the beginning

At the first session of the Legislature under the State Constitution the Democracy being in power by the act to regulate the Treasury Department approved June 2 1859 the Governor and Secretary had an Assistant each provided for them at an annual salary of $400 each At the time some Democrats, among whom was Col. Shiel, opposed these palpable violations of the new made Constitution, and predicted in both sorrow and anger that the "Black Republicans would carry the State in consequence thereof at the next election

In 1862 the Republicans came into power, but not upon that issue. They accepted the situation and continued the Assistants to the to the Governor and Secretary but the Treasurer had to go it alone on the pittance of $800 On October 2, 1864, the Republican Assembly increased the compensation of the Governor's Private Secretary to $600 and so the matter now stands

We think it high time that the Constitution of State was amended upon the subject of compensation of State officers, and the necessity for these demoralizing indirections and dishonest shifts done away This proposition to give the Treasurer a clerk $2,000 per annum, when the Constitution imposes the duties of the office upon the Treasurer and prohibits him from receiving more than $800 per annum for performing them is we think as yet a little too latitudinarian for the average Oregon mind

Something more than ten years has gone by since the Constitution of the State was adopted and went into effect, and in that time the population of our State has doubled the wealth tripled and the business of the State quadrupled Of course there ought to be a corresponding increase of salaries. The present salaries were fixed at a very low figure for that time because most of the leading and controlling men in the Convention were over anxious to command the Constitution to their paramount constituents, and thereby secure its adoption and themselves a seat in Congress But for the special efforts of a few members the salaries would have been fixed twenty-five per cent. below what they are, and in fact the Convention once voted them at that figure.

To remedy the evil let the Legislature now in session submit the following amendment to the Constitution

Amendment proposed to the Constitution of the State of Oregon

Article XIII of the Constitution is hereby repealed and the following ordained and established in its place.

ARTICLE XIII,

SECTION 1 The Governor and Secretary of State shall each receive an annual salary of $2,000, the Treasurer of State shall receive an annual salary of $2 000, the Justices of the Supreme Court shall each receive an annual salary of $3,500, the Governor, Secretary and Treasurer of State shall each be entitled to an assistant or clerk, at an annual salary of $1 000 each the members of the Legislative Assembly shall receive as a compensation for their services five dollars per day from the commencement of the session but such compensation shall not exceed in the aggregate at any regular session the sum of $250, the presiding officers of the Assembly shall receive ten dollars per day during the session thereof

Sec. 2. This amendment, if adopted shall relate back and take effect from the first Monday in September, 1870, so as to authorize and provide that the officers and members in office from and after such date shall receive the compensation herein prescribed.

Let all parties take hold and adopt this amendment It will only about double the expense for salaries and per diem of members As we have said since the establishment of the present salaries the population of the State has doubled its wealth has trebled and its official business has quadrupled and it is time that the compensation of its officers were put at a decent figure

Then the Supreme Court as at present constituted can sit twice a year, and take time to try the cases and give written opinions for their decisions How much better this than the proposition to establish a separate Supreme Court on the present insufficient salaries One well paid court is better for suitors and the public than two half paid ones Gentlemen of the Legislature, let the people have a chance at the amendment We remain favor of decent salaries and against all miserable fetches to get around the present Constitution so as to provide for officials more emoluments than that instrument will now allow

Might not the Democratic majority in the Legislature who are raging about throwing out Republican members in a mere spirit of wantonness with so high a hand as well pause a little to reflect on the probable consequences? Are they willing to abide the precedents they are establishing? Do they ever stop to consider that they may be preparing the way to make the representation of their party very small in future Legislatures?

Elections will take place on Tuesday next in the States of Pennsylvania Ohio Indiana and Iowa The principal contest is for members of Congress A Legislature is also to be chosen in Pennsylvania and a Secretary of State in Ohio We expect to be able to chronicle Republican successes in all the States named

The Cologne Gazette publishes the views of several correspondents on the question of the terms of peace The writers while admitting that the prevailing tongue in Alsace is German, call the editors to task for the statement that the same is true of Lorraine One of those correspondents who passed the greater portion of his life in that province says the German element is hardly perceptible and that the language is spoken only in a thin strip adjoining the frontier

An Oligarchy in the Name of Democracy

On Thursday an attempt was made by Mr Davenport to have the appropriate committee of the House instructed to report bills for a new apportionment of Senators and Representatives in compliance with the Constitution of the State which requires such apportionment to be made Mr Whitaker the Democratic leader in the House met the proposition with the following statement which we mark

I am very well satisfied with the present apportionment and think that as the Republicans made it they ought not to object to it

That is to say the Republicans think that as they made the present apportionment several years ago when the population of the State was distributed very differently from now are not entitled to demand a new apportionment at this time even though the changes of population have made the present apportionment very unequal and though the Constitution itself makes it the duty of the Legislature at this session to apportion Senators and Representatives anew Republicans made the apportionment to meet the wants of equal representation several years ago Since then some of the counties have largely increased their population while others have either lost in numbers or increased very slowly The consequence is that the present representation is very unequal To meet this condition of things a provision was inserted in the Constitution requiring a new apportionment after each census But now Gov Whitaker finding that the changes of population have been such as to give his party a great advantage under the present apportionment declares that the apportionment shall not be changed Provision was made in the Constitution to adjust and correct just such inequalities as this but the Democrats now aver that the Constitution shall not be obeyed Suppose Congress should refuse to make a new apportionment for members of that body, on the basis of the present census and insist that the old apportionment which gives the Eastern States more than their share of members should continue in force What would the Democratic party think and say about it? Wouldn't they begin to talk at once about usurpation? The case in Oregon is exactly parallel Our eastern counties, under the old apportionment, have too many members Their population has not increased as rapidly as that of the western counties The present apportionment when it was made was about right but it is not right now So the present apportionment for members of Congress based on the census of 1860 was fair and equal at the time it was made, but it is not fair and equal now The growth of the Eastern States has not kept pace with that of the Western States just as the eastern counties of Oregon have fallen behind those of the western portion of the State

But it is plain that the majority of the Legislature are resolved not to make a new apportionment They want to elect future Legislatures and they fear they can't do it if all the counties are equally represented Therefore they propose to continue the present apportionment, though it has become so grossly unequal Two years hence it will be more unequal still The growth of the State is almost wholly in a few counties in Willamet valley The eastern counties are retrograding rather than advancing, and the southern counties are almost stationary The government of the State is therefore rapidly passing into the hands of an oligarchy Take the five counties east of the mountains with Jackson, Josephine Polk Linn and Lane They have an aggregate population of but 38,763, only about two-fifths of the population of the State yet they elected a majority of the present Legislature The other counties with a population of 52 113 have a minority of the members of that body All the counties first named are Democratic most of the remainder are Republican We therefore have this state of things, viz Ten counties with 38 763 inhabitants elect thirty six members of the Legislature Twelve counties with 52 113 inhabitants elect but thirty three Heretofore this inequality could not be complained of because it had grown up since the last apportionment But now the time has come to make the representation equal and the Constitution requires it to be done If it be not done the present tendency of population indicates that less than one third of the people will elect a majority of the next Legislature This may suit the present Democratic party but it is not democracy by several degrees

Inasmuch as the majority of the Legislature is determined to perpetuate if possible the rule of an oligarchy The people may deem it necessary to take the control in their own hands When an oligarchy like this has got possession of the government of the State and refuses to obey the requirements of the Constitution which are designed to keep the government in the hands of the people, there should be a remedy somewhere In this case the people may find it by electing in the several counties where they have not representation enough the number of Representatives to which they are justly entitled and then see that they get their seats in the Legislature and that the excessive representation of the oligarchy is thrown out

The Reason of It

The Democratic majority in the Legislature at the opening of the session was not large enough to insure quickness and thoroughness in getting schemes and jobs of all sorts through that body hence it became necessary to make it larger It is now reaching such dimensions as will enable jobs of all descriptions to go through with lightning This has been the sole reason why Republican Members in both Houses from one county after another have been thrown out The Statesman in speaking of the outrage perpetrated in the House of the Yamhill contests thus explains the reasons which prompted it

The fact is and the people may as well note it now that there is a scheme on foot to divert the school fund of the State of Oregon from the purpose to which it was devoted and to use it for fattening certain private corporations The 500 000 acres granted by Congress to the State of Oregon and by the Constitution made an irreducible school fund are worth in the aggregate say $2 000 000 and this is too pretty a plum to be overlooked by those who have been waiting all these years for a chance to make some hing out of their politics

The schemes have been denounced by certain Democrats in the Senate as stealing and it was evident they could not be got through as that body then stood So an election was held and as Watts refused to sanction this "stealing and Newby was in for it with all his might it was solemnly resolved that Watts is not entitled to his seat and that Newby is and the thing is done

Now we suppose the grabbing will proceed the whole amount of the school fund will be appropriated away and the State will be deprived of all opportunity to profit by the liberal donation of the Federal Government

Much has been said about robbing the widows and orphans school fund, but the same men now propose to walk off with the whole amount Watch them, when they vote for these bills and when they get rich out of the job and watch them again when they come back asking the indorsement of an outraged people

Will the people of Southern Oregon take notice that the Democratic members of the Legislature, after adopting a resolution in caucus pledging Col Kelly to "strenuously resist all aid to the branch road known as the Pengra route, until a railroad should be secured from Southern Oregon have since passed a resolution through the House asking Congress to make a grant of land for the Pengra route, thus attempting to absolve Col Kelly from his pledge? Are the people of the Southern counties satisfied with this arrangement Are they content to be thus juggled with?

CHURCH MATTERS

The second annual session of the Oregon State Sunday School Convention which was to meet in this city on Tuesday next will be postponed until a full meeting of the Committee can be held

Rev J B Devore writes to the Alarcite that the people at Olympia are waking up to the subject of a high school He thinks that if they can get some 5 or 6 gentlemen to raise a sufficient amount of lumber to finish the they will succeed He is in favor of the school in any event

Rev I D Dillon, editor of the Alarcite who has been on a trip south is expected home before the next issue of that paper

The Minutes of the M E Conference will be ready for distribution early next week

The quarterly meeting of the M E Church commences to day in the city continuing over to morrow

The Alarcite states that Rev H Caldwell of the Michigan Conference, transferred by Bishop Clarke at the recent session of that body to the Oregon Conference has arrived with his family and entered upon his work on the Hillsboro charge left by Bishop Ames to be supplied by him

Prof Lowell L Rogers recently elected to the chair of Natural Science in the Willamette University is now on his way to his new post The Alarcite says Prof Rogers leaves an inviting field in New York and brings with him a fine reputation both as a teacher and preacher

We learn from the Rector of St Paul (Episcopal) Parish Oregon City that the Rectory is now free from debt The last payment was made this week The faithful Rector Rev J W Sellwood must surely feel that a burden is thus lifted from his heart and we rejoice with him over the happy termination of this important enterprise Bishop Morris who has generously aided in this work congratulates Mr Sellwood upon his success in getting up the first Parsonage in the Diocese We trust that it may prove of no inconsiderable benefit to the Parish for many years to come The next work in Oregon City will be the erection of a Parish School

The Statesman says that Rev Father Wenninger has been giving a mission at Roseburg during this week with success On to-morrow he will begin a mission at Corvallis where the efficient young pastor Rev P Gibney has been anxiously awaiting him

A Mass for the repose of the soul of David McLoughlin who was accidentally killed some months since near Canyon City the Statesman says will be celebrated at the Cathedral in this city on next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock

A CARD

El Oregonian—I noticed in three different issues of the Bulletin, that a certain Mr Sneer John has attempted to throw a slur upon the Congregation Beth Israel and while I deem it unnecessary to make any defense upon attacks of this nature I conclude it but just to the public to give the facts of the case After causing some inquiries to be made whether rendering would pay in this city and being informed in the negative still persisted and came here And while members of this Congregation need their best efforts to sell tickets and assist him all in their power the Congregation on furnishing him with the use of the Synagogue his lecture proved a pecuniary failure owing to the fact that the country is overrun from the Atlantic to the Pacific by such religious lecturers However, in order to heal the gentleman s feelings he was requested to deliver a religious discourse on one of our late holidays which as is well known, is considered by all true ministers an honor and not a money making business Nevertheless a certain sum was handed to him upon his repeated requests to be paid As I now understand that inasmuch as this sum was too small for him he has sent the money to the French Relief Fund, I will make the Rev Mr Sneersohn the following proposal If he can either substantiate that the money has been sent as he says, or will deposit the money in a bank to be sent to the French Relief Fund I will send a similar amount to the German Relief Fund

English Opinion on Terms of Peace

The London Times says of Germany

She is now to such enormous victories It is with her the revival of a time long ago and the succession to a long lost or long denied inheritance Can Germany feel that mercy becometh most the strong Does she know that it is the best preservative of political strength?

The Standard says

There can be no durable peace between France and Germany which does not respect the present frontiers of the two countries The Prussians may indeed impose a peace but it will not be of served and in imposing it they will undertake to maintain the armaments which well as they have served him in the war have already been felt in many ways to the great detriment of the State

The News says

No European statesman could seriously attempt to save France from the natural and legitimate penalties of defeat in consequence of her seeking A man in no less than an individual must abide by the necessary consequences of its own acts The natural power might protest justly enough against any colossal raise or important territorial changes But some slight loss of territory is the natural if unavoidable forfeiture of war France many has made enormous sacrifices to carry on the struggle sacrifices which amount of ten be repeated She may fairly expect to be required to these sacrifices in order to provide possible some substantial security against their recurrence

The Telegraph says

We turn with earnest hope to the victorious troops that Germany will on her whole knowledge the hanging aspect of events will give the English no excuse for being hostile to the Empire The sacrifices of the British cannot be forgotten and a secure and accurate guarantee must be had from France but if now when they are face to face with each other the Teutonic British and Latin races will not be found guilty of blaspheming the principles of popular government in the name of liberality miscalled Teutonism or Germanity will be with the crime of shedding its blood by the bonds of unjust moderation

The Summer is past a Autumn is here
The finest season though not the whole year
But the days grow cool and all must prepare
For warmer Clothing in Winter to wear
Well KOHN & FISHEL of Cloth ing renown

They have all sorts of coats and pants that will match

Now let me tr th s very q ick ure of the battle and its results

On the evening of the 31st and the m rn n of the 1st the army had [illegible] moved in the positions assigned all around Sedan The Bavarians had the left wing at Bazeille on the Meuse N xt to them the Saxons in the direction of Moncelle and Daigny then the Guards still on the march in the direction of Givonne, and the fifth and fifteenth corps at St Menges and and Fleigneux Th Meuse making here a sharp bend no troops were stationed from St Menges as far as Donchery but the latter place was held by the Wurtembuergers who at the same time covered the rear against sorties from Mezieres The cavalry division under Count Stolberg in the plain of Donchery formed the right wing In the front toward Sedan were the remainder of the Bavarians

In spite of a dense fog, the fight commenced at Bazeilles already early in the morning, and gradually developed into a hot engagement in which house after h use had to be taken lasting almost the whole day and the Erfurt Division under General Schoeler (in the reserve Fourth Corps) had to come to the assistance When I arrived at 8 o clock at the front before Sedan the great battery was just pouring its fire on the fortifications A huge artillery combat ensued at all p nts which continued for hours and during which on our side ground was materially gained The villages mentioned were taken Very deep ravines covered with timber rendered the advance of the infantry difficult and favored the defence The villages of Illy and Floing were taken, and gradually the circle of fire was drawn closer and closer around Sedan It was a grand sight from our position on a domin ating eminence behind that battery mentioned, to the right of the village of Frenois, and forward above Ft Forey

The stubborn resistance of the enemy gradually slackened as we could see from the battalions in disorder hastily retiring from the woods and villages The cavalry attempted to attack some battalions of our Fifth Corps, which held out and bore them selves splendidly The cavalry dashed through the intervals between the battalions then wheeled and returned the same way repeating it three times with different regiments, so that the field was covered with dead men and horses We could see it all distinctly from our position I have not yet been able to learn the number of the brave regiment

The retreat of the enemy in many places becoming a rout and all—infantry cavalry and artillery—crowding into the t wn and the nearest surroundings, but still no indication appearing of the disposition of the enemy to save himself from this desperate condition by capitulation, nothing remained than to order the town to be bombarded by the battery before mentioned In less than twenty minutes it was burning in several places, that, together with the many burning villages in the whole radius of the battle made an appalling impression, and I ordered the firing to cease, and sent Lieut Col Von Bronsart, of the staff, with a white flag, as truce-bearer, offering capitulation to the army and fortress. He was met by a Bavarian officer, who reported that a French truce bearer with a white flag had appeared at the gate Lieut. Col Von Bronsart was admitted and upon his inquiry for the General-in-Chief he was unexpectedly conducted before the Emperor, who wanted at once to deliver him a letter addressed to me When upon inquiry by the Emperor what his orders were, the reply was given To summon army and fortress to surrender The Emperor directed Bronsart to address himself in the matter to Gen De Wimpffen, who had just assumed command in place of MacMahon, wounded, and stated that he would send his letter to me by Adjutant Gen. Reille It was 7 o clock when Reille and Bronsart came to me You can imagine what impression it made upon me especially, and upon all Reille dismounted and delivered to me the letter of his Emperor saying that he had no further orders Before opening the letter I said to him But I demand as first condition that the army lay down their arms.' The letter commences thus N ayant pas pu tu no tre a la tete de mes troupes je depose n on epee a Votre Majeste (not having been able to die at the head of my troops I lay down my sword before your Majesty leaving everything further to my discretion

My reply was that I regretted the manner in which we had met, and requested that a plenipotentiary be sent when the capitulation could be concluded I had given the letter to Gen Reille. I spoke a few words to him as an old acquaintance and thus ended this act I gave Moltke powers to treat, and directed Bismarck to remain behind in case political questions should come up and then rode to my carriage and drove to this place everywhere on the road saluted with thunder ing hurrahs by The troops moving up and singing, everywhere the national hymn It was sublime. Everywhere lights had been lit, and then now and then, we drove in the midst of an improvised illumination I remained here at 11 o'clock, and drank with my suite the welfare of the army that had decom [illegible] this great result No report having [illegible] me from Moltke up to the morning of the 2d, of the result of the capitulation treaty which was to have been made in Donchery I drove, at eight o'clock, according to arrangement, to the battle-field and there met Moltke, who came to get my consent to the terms of capitulation proposed, and at the same time inform me that the Emperor had left Sedan at 5 o clock and had come to Douchery As he wished to speak to me I selected for our meeting a little castle with a park which was close by At 10 o clock Moltke and Bismarck made their appearance with the articles of capitulation, signed, and at 1 o clock I set out with Fritz escorted by a cavalry guard I dismounted at the castle and the Emperor came to meet me The interview lasted fifteen minutes We were both deeply moved at this meeting again What I felt having seen Napoleon three years ago in the very summit of his power I cannot describe

After this interview, from 3 30 to 8 30 o clock, I rode along the front of the whole army before Sedan The reception by the troops, the meeting with the learnest Leaders of Guards, all this I cannot describe to you to-day I was profoundly moved by so many tokens of love and lev tion Now good bye with throbbing heart at the close of such a letter WILHELM

Frauds Upon Insurance Companies

Frauds upon insurance companies have become more numerous of late than ever The stores of firms in pecuniary difficulty are destroyed by fire and the property is often sought to recover from the companies two or three times the value of the property destroyed The case of Chas R Townsend & Son grocers, in Newark Avenue Jersey City against two or three country insurance companies represented by Alfiger Brothers of this city was tried in the Supreme Court in July and committed to a referee consisting of a leading lawyer and two tradesmen They have lately rendered a decision adverse to the complainants

The store of Townsend & Son took fire last December and their [illegible] statement of loss to the amount of $20 047 Files more than covered the amount of their insurance which was $ 000 The committee of the Alfigers proved heavy over charges in every item Unbundred chests of tea were mentioned in the list as having been destroyed but the firemen proved that nearly all of the chests were empty Fifteen full barrels of sugar were also sworn to The section of the store where the barrels stood was but slightly damaged and not one full barrel was found there Coffee and several other articles of the more expensive kinds were discovered to be similarly exaggerated and the demand of the firm was refused Forty five hundred dollars was offered in settlement but the full amount was insisted on

The actual loss was proven to be $3 281 22 and the decision of the referee was that the claim of the complainant of only fifty $16 4 was grossly excessive as they knew what it was not worth the amount proved Their claim should therefore be dismissed with costs Illustrations of [illegible] to $1 000

There are three reasons why [illegible] ing insurance companies are full of [illegible] line of defense from future claims of this kind

The first is that case yet to be tried [illegible] Brooklyn dealer in furniture, destroyed [illegible] sales, insured for nineteen companies for $11 000 while the very reasonable [illegible] $4 000 Another instance is of a clerk [illegible] who had $6 000 and is entitled to but 1 000 — New York Evening [illegible]
